

6TH DOCTORAL STUDENTS' CONFERENCE

PRELIMINARY INFORMATION

The International Doctoral School announces a new International Conference at the University of Murcia from 27th to 29th May 2020.

This International Conference will be hosted at the University Campus of Espinardo and it will be focused on different aspects relating to doctoral students' training as well as promoting the specialization of young researchers and other professionals.

This annual conference, which takes place at the end of May each year, provides novel researchers with an excellent opportunity to communicate and discuss their ideas. Doctoral students are encouraged to present their research as oral communications or posters and to share their experiences with other PhD students from different countries.

Grants of 500€ are provided by the International Campus of Excellence at the University of Murcia -Campus Mare Nostrum to attend and present oral communications.
